CAUCUS FOR JOHNSON IS NOT QUITE POPULAR

Some Score or More of Legislators Refuse, in Fact, to Swallow the Compliment Pill Offered by Governor's Men

PEACE DOVE SEEKS FAR SPOT AT ONCE

"Come in or Stay Out, As You Please," Is Ultimatum Delivered to Objectors by Dominant Administration Bosses

BY PACIFIC NEWS SERVICE
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The Republican peace dove which has been fluttering about the hotel lobbies and wherever legislators have been foregathering and caucusing for the last three days, flew back to the long green tules today, when the administration leaders called a caucus to endorse in sweeping terms the acts of Governor Hiram W. Johnson for the last six years, and thereby slammed the doors on some twenty members of the assembly and an indignant coterie of senators.

"Sign that document? Eat everything we have said and repudiate everything we have been fighting for? Never!"

That was the defiance hurled at the administration leaders by J. A. Pettis, assemblyman from Mendocino county, one of the real brains of the lower house. And Pettis voiced the sentiments of at least a score of members of the house.

Among the recalcitrants who refused to sign the Johnson endorsement, and thereby excluded themselves from the caucus, called at 10 o'clock were the following members:

Harry A. Chamberlain, Los Angeles; Alfred L. Bartlett, Los Angeles; J. A. Pettis, Fort Bragg; John F. Quinn, Humboldt; W. A. Doran, San Diego; Henry Hanson, Fresno; Harry Polesky, Tehama; Joe Burke, Orange; Senator W. E. Duncan Jr., Butte; Lynn Green, Sonoma; E. R. Sheppard, Los Angeles; Edwin Baker, Los Angeles, and C. C. McCray, Shasta.

The administration men are in the saddle and returned the fire of the opposing forces with defiance.

"They can come in or stay out. That is their privilege and their inalienable constitutional right," is the blunt way in which they phrased it.

The caucus lasted from 10 o'clock until noon when the session was called to order by Speaker C. C. Young.

SOME CAPTULATED.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—At the time for convening in caucus in accordance with the administration's call the opposition forces had dwindled to almost nothing. Senator J. W. Ballard of Los Angeles, who fought the administration bitterly in 1915, was among the first to enter the senate caucus room, signing the paper endorsing Johnson's work of the past six years. J. W. Stuckenbruck of Lodi, Democrat, also entered into the caucus. These two were considered leaders of their respective elements and when they "surrendered" the caucus became almost unanimous for Johnson.

In the assembly caucus the same rule prevailed. Charles W. Lyon of Los Angeles, one of the strongest "antls" in the 1915 session, leading in the move to support the administration. Alfred Bartlett of Los Angeles, however, tried to muster up an opposition force, but with no success.

"Where's the minority?" Bartlett was asked.

"There ain't no such animal," he answered.

SESSION IS CALLED.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The forty-second session of the legislature was convened at the state capitol shortly after noon today. Lieutenant-Governor Stephens called the senate to order and the assembly was convened by B. M. Maloney, formerly chief clerk.

The following organization was announced as having been determined upon in the senate and assembly caucuses:

Senate—A. H. Breed, Oakland, president pro tem; F. H. Benson, Santa Clara, floor leader; secretary, Clifton S. Brooks, Oakland; sergeant-at-arms, Tom Brown, San Francisco; first assistant clerk, J. W. Kavanaugh, Vallejo; chaplain, the Rev. Isaac Dawson, vicar of Trinity pro-cathedral, Sacramento.

Assembly—C. C. Young, Berkeley, speaker; clerk, B. O. Boothby, Los Angeles; first assistant clerk, Messrs. Stern, San Francisco; floor leader, Frank M. Smith, San Francisco; sergeant-at-arms, W. J. Lester, Sacramento; chaplain, the Rev. W. S. Hoskinson, First English Lutheran church, Sacramento.

COUNTY HOSPITAL LOST TO OAKLAND

Supervisors' Vote Away City's Chance As Location of Institution

ELECTION ON SITE WILL BE CALLED

All chances of locating a county hospital in Oakland were killed this morning when the County Board of Supervisors by the votes of Chairman Murphy, Kelly and Hoyer decided to submit the question of sites to a vote, provided that the recommendation of the district attorney is secured for the calling of an election on this matter and on the issuance of bonds for a new bridge across the estuary.

Submitting the question of the various sites at a special election and thus hopelessly splitting the Oakland vote will result in the hospital remaining in its present location at the county infirmary and deprive the people of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley of the advantages of a centrally located hospital. This is a complete reversal of the former action of the Board of Supervisors, which on June 21, 1915, passed the following resolution, declaring it to be the sense of the board that the county hospital be located in Oakland:

Whereas, This board has had under consideration for some time the proposition to separate the county hospital from the infirmary, and

Whereas, It is apparent that the best interests of the county demand that the hospital should be located within a reasonable distance from the center of town where it would be accessible and convenient to physicians and the public as well; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That it be the sense of this body that a suitable piece of land be acquired for the purpose of erecting a hospital thereon.

On December 21, 1915, the Supervisors appointed, in obedience to law and in compliance with the request of petitioning citizens, a Board of Public Welfare, to which was referred the matter of selecting a hospital site. This board, after long and patient investigation, rendered a complete report to the supervisors. Today's action ignores the recommendation of the Welfare Board, composed of prominent and public-spirited men and women of this county.

Supervisor Foss declared that the action of the board this morning was merely another instance of wilful delay.

"I think that the calling of an election will defer this important matter for months," he said, "and it is one that should be attended to at once. Furthermore, the placing of these different propositions on one ballot will result in the confusing of issues."

"I believe that the site for the hospital should be purchased now, from the general fund or from the hospital fund," said Supervisor Mullins.

"I believe that this will expedite the selection of a site for the county hospital," said Chairman Murphy of Livermore in discussing the matter after the meeting.

Supervisor Hoyer of Hayward agreed with Chairman Murphy. "I believe that the calling of an election will bring the whole question to a more speedy solution," he said. "As far as my constituents are concerned, they are opposed to any separation of the hospital and infirmary."

THE PLAN BONDS.

The resolution passed today reads: "Whereas, It appears to this board that the following improvements are needed by the county, to-wit: The construction of a new bridge across the Oakland estuary; the construction of a county hospital; and the construction of new buildings for the county infirmary, and that the cost thereof is too great to be paid out of the general tax levy; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this board that the district attorney be requested to look into the question of the ways and means of calling an election for the purpose of issuing bonds for the said work, and that the district attorney also be requested to see if there cannot be submitted to the vote of the people at the same election the question of whether or not the county hospital shall be removed from the present site to a site nearer the center of population, and also to submit to the people at the same time the selection of various sites, the number to be determined by this board for the said hospital; and all resolutions or parts of resolutions in conflict herewith are hereby rescinded."

TERM EXPIRES.

The board was informed by the Board of Public Welfare of Alameda county that the term of Edward L. Parsons as a member of that organization has expired, and the request was made for his reappointment. The matter was referred to the committee of the whole.

R. H. Crocheron, state leader of farm advisers for California, informed the board that Professor C. W. Rubel will be succeeded on February 1 as farm advisor for Alameda county by Marcus J. Lee. Professor Rubel will be advanced to the position of assistant state leader in charge of Northern California, and will continue to assist the local advisor in all matters pertaining to this county.

Applications for liquor licenses were received from J. J. Serpa, of Contra Costa county, and Leonard L. Murch of San Leandro.

Thomas Brain was named as inspector of brick work on the Hall of Records in place of James Hackett, resigned, at a compensation of $10 per diem.

Adoption of Sharon to Be Under Attack

Proceedings in Superior Court Declared Invalid in Big Estate Fight.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
683 MARKET ST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—An attack upon the legality of the alleged adoption of Frederick Wallace Sharon by the late Frederick William Sharon, owner of the Palace Hotel, was begun this morning before Superior Judge James Coffey by Attorney Garrett W. McCauley, counsel for the widow Mrs. Louise Tevis Sharon.

Superior Judge Graham transferred to Judge Coffey the hearing on the petition for final distribution made today by Mrs. Sharon. At the same time, through Attorney Walter Lind and John L. McNab, Frederick Wallace Sharon applied for the distribution of half of the property to him, claiming sonship with the deceased.

The arguments, which will consume the entire day, were begun by Attorney McCauley, who asked Judge Coffey to consider the petition of Frederick W. Sharon as non-existing and proceed with the hearing of Mrs. Sharon's application. He claimed that, if during the controversy, Frederick Wallace Sharon's claim should be injected, it could be disposed of jointly therewith. He attacked Frederick Wallace Sharon's claim of adoption in 1902 by saying that prior to 1905 the grant decree of adoption had no jurisdiction to grant decrees of adoption. He said that previously a duly invested county judge was given the authority and that if Sharon claimed adoption in the superior court, his claims should be ignored.

Pope Not to Urge Peace, Is Reported

ROME, Jan. 8.—According to the Messagero, Pope Benedict will refuse to intervene in behalf of peace at this time. The paper states that the Pontiff will send notes to Germany and the United States on Wednesday saying that the Vatican regards this as an inopportune time for a peace movement. The Pope may enumerate the efforts he has already made to bring about a peace conference.

Law to Permit Vote by Mail Is Urged

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—A law to permit voting by mail will be introduced in the legislature by Senator J. W. Stuckenbruck of Lodi. He also will present a bill for the county establishment of free markets. Both of these bills were presented by him today and passed by the legislature in 1913, but they fell by the wayside when the governor exercised the pocket veto.

Neutrals Make Their Own Move For World Peace

Pan-American Effort Planned to Formulate International Code.

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A new international code to protect the "liberty of neutrals" is being worked out by leading North and South American experts on the basis of lessons drawn from the present war.

President Wilson and Secretary Lansing are the original proponents. Ways and means of formulating in terms the new principles will be discussed by the conference of international lawyers in Havana, Cuba, January 22, the United Press learned today.

German submarine warfare and British commercial interference are said to be the main reasons behind the move.

The new "code" will endeavor to make it impossible for the world ever again to have a "Lusitania case" involving neutrals. It will try to prevent such trespass on neutral rights as Great Britain has practiced in her mail seizures, detention of neutral ships, and the like. It is the contention of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing that the present "imperfect code of rules," defining relations between belligerents and neutrals, "reflects over-appreciation of the needs of the belligerents."

NEUTRALITY'S TWIN NOW.

The belief in the process of treating the subject of neutrality should be reversed and dealt with from the point of view of the neutral. Conventions which have grown up during the past 125 years and have been in some cases differently interpreted by courts of different countries have been frequently found inadequate to meet new conditions of warfare and, as a result, every war has changed, modified or added to the rules, generally through the process of judicial decisions.

"The prize courts of belligerents have thus become the interpreters of belligerent rights and neutral obligations and their interpretations are evidence of an unconscious prejudice arising out of over-appreciation of the needs of belligerents," it is declared.

Rival Governors Write Legislature

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 8.—The circulation of charges that fifty-three ballots cast in the November election in one Douglas precinct were tampered with, and the statement that more may be discovered today, has not created the sensation it would any other day, for Arizona's eyes are today on the legislature, scheduled to meet and attempt to adjourn until the present middle brought about by the gubernatorial fight is settled.

Both Tom Campbell and George W. P. Hunt, claimants to the office, have prepared messages to the legislature.

CONVICTION OF BOPP IS WOMAN'S PLEA

Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams Has Her First Big Trial of Strength in Case Against the Alleged German Plotters

Federal Portia Laughs Scornfully at Insouciant Attitude She Declares Is Purposely Taken by Foreign Attache

TRIBUNE BUREAU
683 MARKET ST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, the only woman federal prosecutor in the United States, demanded the conviction of Consul Franz Bopp and the other German consular officials at the hands of a jury in Federal Judge William Hunt's court today. With the courtroom crowded into the corridors, every seat and every bit of standing room filled with absorbed spectators, Mrs. Adams, appearing in her first big case, made an able argument in support of the government's contention that the officials of the consulate deliberately planned a military expedition against Canada and the destruction of munitions, stores and plants in this country.

After reviewing all the evidence in the case from its inception, Mrs. Adams began to particularize and mention the defendants in person.

"In March, 1915, the German consulate here received $100,000 from Franz Bopp returned from Europe, after seeing Captain Von Papen, since recalled as military attache of the embassy in Washington. Bopp testified that Von Papen gave him a little bit of money to spend the $100,000."

"In the German language he is a little bit ambitious. For one thing, war was running high. The German fleet in the Pacific had been destroyed. Not one German ship remained in the Pacific. Business at the consulate was slumping. Nothing had been accomplished for the German flag in the Pacific and the distinction of the San Francisco consulate. Something must be done."

"Van-Schacken, a sworn officer of the Prussian army, is employed at the German consulate. He is engaged in 'confidential work' by Von Schack. Information comes that large shipments to the allies are going out of Puget Sound ports and even from San Francisco. Something must be done."

"ENTER LOUIS SMITH."

"Enter Louis J. Smith, broke, out of a job and a dynamite mixer. He is engaged at $10 a day as Crowley's assistant. Investigator Crowley got $8 a day. Smith's employer was interested only in finding some one who could make bombs to destroy shipping, relying on the belief that Smith was once implicated in such a plot. He had been on the list on account of his personal safety and that they would be safe."

"And Smith was afraid. But that proved their final undoing. For it was his fear that drove him to the United States attorney at Detroit for protection after he had been on the list by the other defendants following the bomb plot failures and after he was being followed by Germans, who he thought were hired to kill him."

"In his boyish years, taking his refuge in his books, Smith was a weakling, contrasts strongly with his 35 years, his years of military training, his rank and his travels over the world, tells us that his communications with the conspirators in Canada were in connection with a perfectly legitimate venture in Canada, with whom Germany was and had been for months at war. You know that Von Brinken's bank account showed no money for investments."

THE TESTIMONY OF CROWLEY.

"The testimony of Crowley, was most eloquent in what he did not say. He gave no satisfactory account of what he did on his trip to Tacoma, Seattle, Chicago, Toronto, Buffalo and Detroit."

"The defense would scoff at the bombs Smith made in Tacoma and have brought experts here to show that they would not have exploded. The question here is, not whether they would have exploded, but whether the defendants thought they would explode. The purchase by Bopp of the Thermos bottle bomb from Van Koolbergen after the three vessels on which Crowley thought Smith had placed bombs had arrived safely in Canada, and the fact that Smith had found out by that time at least that as a dynamite expert Smith was a failure."

"The explanation by the defense of the sheaf of telegrams which the government has connected with the conspiracy, that it aimed to destroy American lives and property as well as the munitions of the allies are too absurd and ridiculous to discuss. Smith has been examined at great length by the defendant's counsel about the immunity granted him and the witness felt it to him. If these defendants did not conspire with Smith to do the things charged there was no crime committed, hence no immunity."

NO EXCUSE FOR WOMAN.

"Mrs. Adams was not to be excused for her participation in this conspiracy. What use had Crowley for a private secretary? According to his own testimony he made no reports, kept no books, wrote no letters and was absent from San Francisco during most of the time of the conspiracy. Mrs. Cornell's compensation was given to her for services in communicating messages between Crowley and the consulate and she knew that these messages did not concern legitimate matters."

Gentlemen of the jury, your duty to yourselves and your country is clear. You must sustain the laws and the neutrality of the United States. We ask for a verdict of guilty against each and every one of these defendants."

Mrs. Mary Miller, the last witness for the defense, testified this morning that Crowley was at the Von Nuyss Hotel at Tacoma on the night of the Seattle barge explosion.

POLICE WILL FACE PROBE OF SYSTEM

Investigation to Cover Entire Department, Says District Attorney; Every Angle of Big Row Will Be Investigated

"Am Saying Nothing—Working," Says Hynes; Fruits of His Examinations Will Be Placed Before Inquisitors

Following a conference with Foreman Jean D. Polier of the Alameda county grand jury which lasted most of the morning, District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes announced today that he would proceed as rapidly as possible to investigate the charges of official irregularities brought against Commissioner J. F. Jackson by Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen.

Intimation that the investigation would not be confined to the specific charge that Petersen brought against Commissioner Jackson in which he declared that former Chief of Police William F. Woods had been ordered by Jackson to open the letterfiles, was given by Hynes. The whole system of police administration, it was admitted, would come under the official probe of the inquisitorial body.

Hynes said: "If an act now on the full scope of the matter, I am not going to be confined in my inquiries by anything. No one thing is going to be investigated to the exclusion of anything else. We are going to make a thorough investigation of the whole situation as it exists. That is the only way to get a full view of just what conditions exist."

"Specific charges which have been made, of course come in for their share of the investigation. If they are borne out by the fruits of my investigation the grand jury will be asked to take immediate action."

"I am giving out nothing for publication at the present time does not mean that there is nothing being done. On the contrary we are already at work. Just what form this investigation is taking at the present time I do not care to say."

ORDINANCE RECONSIDERED.

The police situation presented an unexpected emergency which was given some momentum at the meeting of the council this morning when Commissioner Edwards won his point in obtaining a reconsideration of Mayor Davie's ordinance seeking the abolishment of the extra police captaincy which has been a matter of contention between Commissioner Jackson and other commissioners since the civil service board refused to recognize the appointment of Inspector Agnew to the position.

Commissioner Edwards gave notice of a move to reconsider a week ago today. When the matter came up Commissioner Jackson objected on the grounds that the proceedings were irregular. He referred to Deputy City Attorney O'Brien, who gave an opinion on the question, was at issue, whereupon it was unanimously carried. The last vote on the ordinance resulted in its failure to carry. Today Commissioner Jackson voted for the reconsideration.

VOTE IS POSTPONED.

In view of the grand jury probe and the developments in the situation that the council took place tomorrow night. It was agreed that the vote on the reconsideration should be postponed until Wednesday morning.

The machinery of the inquisitorial body has been set in motion by District Attorney Hynes. The first step was the obtaining of such information as may come out at the civil service board hearing of the charges involving Captain of Police Charles Buck, Corporal Herman Rumetsch and three patrolmen of Chinatown under suspension by Commissioner Jackson for alleged neglect on their part to keep closed the Chinese lotteries. The men demanded a hearing, claiming that the lotteries have been efficiently closed. Chief Petersen defied Commissioner Jackson to prove otherwise and Jackson retorted that he had sufficient evidence "in his pocket" to "break up" police officers whom he has suspended.

Sacramento May Have New Municipal Court

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—Police courts will be replaced by "municipal courts" with a higher standing than police courts, with judges receiving higher salaries and considering many matters that now come before the Superior Court, if the legislative assembly passes a bill to be introduced by Assemblyman Mouser of Los Angeles.

Mouser also has a number of amendments to the motor vehicle law, among them being refusal to grant a registration to any one under 16 years of age, permitting the transfer of license plates when a machine is sold, and tilting headlights to avoid the dangerous glare.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Thomas W. Lawson nearly added a fist fight to the list of sensations in the "leak" investigation before the House rules committee this afternoon when he hurled at the committee a direct charge that it had tried to smother his allegation that official Washington is fairly honeycombed with "leaks." Representative Chipperfield of Illinois hotly resented Lawson's charges and called his statements a "big four-flush."

In the excitement Lawson arose from his seat on the witness stand, advanced toward Chipperfield and shook his fist under the Illinois Congressman's nose.

"I demand fair play!" he shouted. "The whole room was thrown into a tumult. When a physical clash between Lawson and Chipperfield seemed unavoidable, Jerry South, chief clerk of the House, rushed forward, and seizing Lawson by the arm, succeeded in persuading the fiery financier to sit down."

Thereafter Lawson answered questions with a fair degree of calm, although Chipperfield once interrupted him to say "If he goes a little further he won't testify any further today."

Previously Secretary of State Lansing and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President, testified, the former giving a detailed account of the preparation of the peace note and the extraordinary efforts to ensure secrecy, and the latter vigorously denying he had advanced information of the move to reach speculators. Tumulty declared he had advanced no advance information and quoted the President as backing up this assertion.

FAILS OF ENLIGHTENMENT.

Chairman Henry's best efforts as an inquisitor failed to draw from Lawson any real, valuable information towards fixing the responsibility for the leak. Lawson invariably gave direct answers to the questions, "I was not one of the conspirators."

"There are leaks in the Supreme Court of the United States, in Congress, in the cabinet and direct from the 'White House,' Lawson declared. "There have been a gigantic robbery of the American people—a deliberate, premeditated robbery of the American people."

A furious row, in which fistfists seemed imminent, between Representative Chipperfield and Lawson developed when Lawson charged that the court did not want to get at the facts.

The men were within two feet of each other at the time and each was glaring at the other.

JERRY SOUTH, sergeant-at-arms of the committee, moved to Lawson's side, as it seemed likely there would be a physical combat.

"You must sit down, Mr. Lawson," shouted Chairman Henry.

"I know—flusher every time I speak," shouted Lawson, as he took his seat and glared at Chipperfield.

The crowd was keyed up to a high pitch of excitement as Lawson advanced and put his fist under the nose of the Illinois member as he asserted that he "didn't propose to be bulldozed by this committee or any member of it."

Various members of the committee were shouting for order and during the hubbub, Representative Garrett, a Democratic member, demanded that "this witness be instructed to give this committee facts and proceed to order."

"What's the penalty, what's the penalty here for saying what I want to?" yelled Lawson in the confusion.

Congressman Chipperfield is a six-footer and weighs probably 255 pounds. Lawson is slightly under that height, but is not a small man himself. Jerry South, another bulky individual, remained standing by the side of the Boston man until the fracas showed signs of subsiding. As he took his seat, Lawson declined to go on with his statement, saying that he had been "insulted and I can do no further use to this committee."

WOULD HAVE HIS HEAD.

The committee took a recess after Lawson promised to submit evidence, but asserted he would not proceed with a direct statement unless permitted to do so in his own way.

The trouble started when Lawson attempted to say something about the bomb case, and then for Miss Fitzgerald.

As the ball is free to the general public, a large delegation of friends from San Francisco, Berkeley, Alameda and Contra Costa county are expected to be present when the band begins its program of dancing music. The list of society women is under preparation and will be requisitioned for the evening. Arrangements for the affair are under direction of Managing Director Joseph E. dance and music that they have been giving that there is little else to say, except that everything is in readiness to make their two-night engagement in the opera-house of the auditorium a huge and memorable success. Wonderful programs will be given tomorrow and Wednesday nights, under the local direction of Will L. Greenbaum, who announced that Nijinsky, the greatest of all dancers, Revalles, Lopokova and the rest of the dozen or so big international stars of the organization will appear at both performances in Oakland. The ballets for tomorrow night include "Till Eulenspiegel," a drama from a German folk story by Nijinsky, set to music of Richard Strauss. Nijinsky will appear as Till, a knavish rogue, who satirizes his conservative fellow citizens and their conventions. The scene is a market place in the middle ages. Till appears successively as a buffoon, a clergyman, a knight and a professor, in each case mocking the populace and the particular class he impersonates. Finally he creates a disturbance by inflammatory speeches and is arrested. He jumps the judges and they condemn him to death on the scaffold. At the last moment the spirit of Till appears and assures them that he will live forever in the hearts of the people.

Nijinsky and Lopokova will then present the beautiful Twinkling pas de deux, "The Enchanted Princess," after which the company will appear in the beautiful Schumann ballet, "Papillons." "Schneerazade," the marvelous ballet Oriental ballet, will be the final offering of the evening. This has long been considered the masterpiece of Bakst. Its story is the famous prelude to the "Arabian Nights."

On Wednesday night Schumann's "Carnaval" with Nijinsky, Lopokova, Cavallone and the entire company, "L'Amour et la Mort," with Nijinsky and the Mili d'un Faune, "Cleopatra," with Revalles, Gavrilov and the entire company and the wonderful "Prince Igor" dances will be given. Tickets are on sale at Sherman, Clay & Co.'s, in San Francisco and Oakland.

Jolly Time Planned at U. P. E. C. Dance

The committee, composed of George L. Lawrence, M. S. Soares and J. E. Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist—has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. $50,000 Is New Year's Gift to Seminary

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Captain Robert Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship Company, has presented $50,000 to the San Francisco Theological Seminary of San Anselmo.

This donation, in the nature of a New Year's gift, came as a surprise to the seminary, of which Captain Dollar is president of the board of trustees. The money will be used to endow the chair of Testament Interpretation, which has been maintained for several years by the general fund of the seminary, and is occupied by Prof. Edward Wither.

"Captain Dollar said yesterday that within a month a campaign to raise $450,000 more will be launched by a committee headed by Professor Lambdon of the seminary.

Five thousand dollars was contributed by Captain Dollar to the College of the Pacific at Santa Clara in the past campaign for $200,000 conducted by that institution.

Caught Between Two Trains; Man Is Hurt

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Caught between two onrushing trains in the Southern Pacific freight yards at Fourth and Townsend streets at 7 o'clock this morning, John Middle, a stevedore, became confused and was struck and run over by one of them. Both of his legs were cut off below the knee and the amputations were later completed at the Central Emergency Hospital.

Middle was working on the street car to his work when the train bore down upon him. He resides at 580 San Bruno avenue and has a wife and six children.

Soldier Given Job by War Department

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Heroism in the battle of Cantara today won a great job for Dolly Farriore, a Tenth cavalry trooper, whose right hand was paralyzed by a Carranza bullet wound. President Wilson waived the civil service rules to give Farriore a position as messenger in the war department and issued an executive order directing his appointment. Farriore was quartermaster-sergeant of Troop C and was a member of Captain Boyd's command when it was ambushed by Carranza forces.

Not a name, but a fact

WE call the OWL the "million dollar" cigar. And we mean it. There's no imagination in the title—it's a cold, solid fact.

Every bit of tobacco for the OWL is cured by time. Sometimes this requires eighteen months—sometimes it's longer. We don't hurry Nature.

There is always a million dollars' worth of this slowly curing tobacco in reserve for the OWL. In this way, not a single leaf of improperly cured tobacco can get into the finished cigar.

You can count on the uniformity of the Million Dollar OWL.

FORTRESS IS CAPTURED BY MACKENSEN

Heavily Garrisoned Stronghold Was Important Key in Teuton Campaign; General Advance Is Made by Germans

Prisoners Total 3,910; Cannon and Supplies Also Taken After Siege; Russians Gain Slightly on the Ara River

BERLIN (via Sayville wireless), Jan. 8.—Focant was captured by the Germans yesterday, with 3910 prisoners, today's German official statement said.

Russian troops made another attack yesterday with strong forces on the northern end of the Russo-Galician front, near the gulf of Riga. Today's official statement says the Russians succeeded in gaining more ground on the Ara river, but elsewhere were repulsed.

A series of brilliant victories all along the Rumanian front was reported by the German war office today.

FORTRESS TAKEN. The Rumanian fortress of Focant, which was defended by powerful fortifications garrisoned by heavy forces of Russians and Rumanians, has been captured by Field Marshal von Mackensen's army.

The German allies captured 3910 prisoners, three cannon and several machine guns at Focant.

The destruction of six allied aeroplanes by Germans was reported by the war office today in an announcement of operations on the western front.

There has been lively artillery activity in West Flanders and north of the Somme.

Focant lies nearly 100 miles north of Bucharest. It is an important strategic point situated exactly midway between Hungary and Russia, in the narrowest part of the neck which connects Rumania with the northern province of Moldavia. The city is nearly thirty miles northwest of Braila, recently captured by the Germans, and which is their northernmost point on the Danube.

PATROL ENGAGEMENTS. PARIS, Jan. 8.—Patrol engagements occurred last night in the regions of Bouchavesnes, on the Somme front, and of Parroy forest, in Lorraine. Otherwise there was little activity.

Solemn Ceremony at St. John's Church

Impressive ceremonial marked the celebration of the festival of the three kings in St. John's Episcopal church, corner of Eighth and Grove streets. Members of the church, their friends and many children joined in the service, over which Father Spencer, the pastor, presided. The five virgins were represented by appropriately garbed celebrants, who marched up and down the aisles in procession. The church was specially decorated for the occasion and a brilliant lighting added to the effect. Following the celebration an entertainment program was given in the Guild Hall.

"The Chicago Diet Squad" succeeded in cutting down the average cost of each meal to 8-1/3 cents in spite of the high cost of foods. And the squad waxed fat and hearty. The most expensive foods are generally the least nutritious. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk make a perfect meal, containing all the nutriment any man or woman needs for a half day's work and at a cost of four or five cents. Shredded Wheat has all the body-building material in the whole wheat grain in a digestible form. For breakfast with milk or cream, or for any meal with fruits. Made in Niagara Falls, N. Y.

LOTTIE HORNER, ORPHEUM STAR, WHO IS SINGING LYRICS WRITTEN FOR HER BY OLYDE WESTOVER.

Lamb's Gambol Sketch Proves Pleasing on the Orpheum Bill

By Ad Schuster.

The Lamb's Gambol sketch "Peggy," named for a child and largely about children but in which no child appears, brings a Christmas and a dramatic feature to the Orpheum this week. In it an irascible theater manager, a genial stage carpenter and famous leading man are drawn to common ground and to an old-fashioned Christmas celebration, by the latter of a little girl. The act shows that Christmas is for and of children and that there is more than a bit of sentiment in all of us. Probably it was the use of Peggy's letter and the genuineness of it that won the silver cup offered for the best sketch of the year at the Lamb's Gambol.

In Nellie V. Nichols and Anna Chandler last night's audience found two almost of a kind. Miss Nichols is hailed as a favorite returned and unlike some of those who have won a place in the public heart, Miss Nichols still strives to please. This year she is offering an Italian character, number of some pretention, a group of confidential songs and, of course, "Will You Be My Nationality?"

Someone Name My Nationality? Anna Chandler sings waltzy songs and other numbers to repeated encores.

Mayo and Tally, old-timers on the circuit and one-half of the famous Empire City quartette, have new lines and the same pleasing voices. Because Mayo has added a sustained character twist to his comedy, perhaps, the act is taking better than ever.

A whirlwind of action that is greeted in cyclonic fashion is the animal act "Flink's Mules." It is a one-ring circus with no waits and plenty of thrills. A count of the handclaps might show that the acts scored heavily—but in stumps and whistles, this established a record that will stand for weeks.

Soap bubbles of all sizes and hues are made to sail over our heads by Olga Young and April Lottie Horner, looking very pretty in some stunning dresses, with the greatest favor with some impersonations.

"The Volunteers," a male quartet, have a novel and informal way of introducing their quarter hour of song.

Stanley and Burns begin their act in a quiet manner, which leads us to believe that we are about to watch two lads turn a balance on narrow perches.

After a singular attempt at song, they settle down to work and produce some dance steps quite new and decidedly to everyone's liking. Their work is exact and graceful.

Sigaboe's Acrobatic Dogs have many of the routine tricks to show, with plenty of new material to tickle the little folks, and (secretly) many of their elders. Several dogs show surprising ability to balance on narrow perches.

Smith and Kaufman slide through an act composed of melody, repartee and reminiscence. "The Lass of the Lumberlands" grows exciting again, and, of its kind, is a picture well worth the watching.

There are those who will find it very much like a lot of other things seen upon the stage. Again, there are many who will not. Both mobs will enjoy themselves at the author's expense. There is a lot to laugh at in "Fair and Warner." And a few things to laugh with.

Every board's wife. Everybody comes home late one night to find Billy and the lady sleeping in a room.

It takes one whole act and a part of another to explain things away. But they are experts. It is as necessary, in farce, to explain compromising situations satisfactorily as it is to have a bedroom scene. And, Harriet, that is very necessary indeed.

Lotus Robb is Blanche Wheeler, the lady in distress. Her work as the typical "Pianist" should bring joy to the heart of the critic who has waited long for a stage drunk that isn't overdone. Henry Stockbridge is Billy to perfection. The farce is well presented.

There are those who will find it very much like a lot of other things seen upon the stage. Again, there are many who will not. Both mobs will enjoy themselves at the author's expense. There is a lot to laugh at in "Fair and Warner." And a few things to laugh with.

There is a lot to laugh at in "Fair and Warner." And a few things to laugh with.

Those who will be seen in the play are Miss Virginia Brissac, Miss Jane O'Rourke, Miss Gertrude Le Brandt, J. Anthony Smythe, Harry Garrity, Ruth Metcalf, Rodney Hildebrandt, and little Juanita Semmons.

Temple Sisters to Play Whist Tournay

Members of the Temple Sisterhood of Temple Sinai will meet tomorrow afternoon at the regular monthly session in Covenant Hall, Twenty-eighth and Webster streets, at 2:30 o'clock. After the business session, bridge whist will be played and prizes will be awarded.

PASTORS PLAN PEACE MEETINGS

Various Talkers to Be Heard in Addresses at Several Sessions.

Meetings in the interest of peace, with that subject the theme in all sermons, have been planned by pastors of churches near Twenty-third avenue and East Seventeenth street, who will preside at union services during week nights. Beginning with this evening, five pastors of the neighborhood will talk to their congregations together in the Twenty-third-avenue Baptist church.

Tonight's meeting will be under the supervision of Rev. W. S. Kelly, with Rev. Jacob Schneider talking on "The Need of Peace." Tomorrow night "The Source of Peace" will be Rev. H. D. Hayes' subject, with Rev. Jacob Schneider acting as presiding officer. Wednesday evening Rev. David Spencer will speak on "Peace Among Nations," Rev. H. E. Hayes acting as presiding officer, while Thursday night "Peace in Industry" will be the theme.

FILM AND SCREEN

Fairy-Tale to Be Feature at T. & D.

Because of its sheer art, its elaborate settings, its very evident cost of production, "Snow White" at the New T. & D. theater, Eleventh and Broadway, is indeed an unusual picture.

In this wonderful Paramount picture, Marguerite Clark repeats her former success and adds another link to the chain of attractive plays.

At all know, this is a Grimm fairy tale, translated with all the charm and wealth of material for story-telling entertainment into a six-part photo drama of the New T. & D. theater may well be proud, and which Oakland photoplay fans cannot afford to miss.

Miss Clark is charming beyond words to describe. She fits exactly into the role of Princess Snow White, and Creighton Hale as Prince Florimund is a likely match for her charm and beauty.

The additional attraction includes William Courtenay and Alice Doyen in "The Romantic Journey," a photoplay of mystery, love and romance.

Accompanying both productions, which remain only until Tuesday, is the T. & D. chorus with selections by Prof. Stechels and his incomparable orchestra. Recitals by Albert Hay Malotte on the Master Wurliizer organ conclude the program.

Pretty Love Story Franklin Theatre

In one of those cosmopolitan boarding houses that exist only in New York, lived, among others, two staunch friends of different nationalities—Paul Cardozo, an Italian, and Emil Vorstman, an Austrian. Both were struggling upward to success and both had forgotten old and new in their allegiance to a country that had offered them freely great opportunities. There was a friendship so strong that even rivalry in love could not break it, and the story is a feature at the Franklin this week.

Nina Antini, the prettiest girl in the establishment, was the object of their devotion, and Nina, although an Italian by birth, hesitated to make a choice between the blonde-haired Austrian and her dark-complexioned fellow countryman. And so the romance resolved itself into a trinity of friendship and mutual help.

Then the war broke out. Emil joined

EFFICIENCY WORK TO BE DISCUSSED

Conference of Importance Is Planned for Methodist Church.

An efficiency conference will be held in the First Methodist church beginning Wednesday at 1:30 o'clock, and will be continued for that night and for three sessions Thursday. The conference is announced as being for the whole church, but particularly for pastors, Sunday school workers, official members and Epworth Leaguers.

The program for the two days is a comprehensive one and some of the most prominent pastors in the state will speak, as will church workers of nation-wide prominence.

of Rev. W. S. Kelly's sermon, H. Schenkofsky is presiding manager. The final evening, Friday, will feature "Personal Peace—the Peace That Passeth Understanding," with Rev. J. A. Jensen speaking and Rev. W. S. Kelly acting as president.

Mabel Taliaferro in Reliance Film

Love surely makes the world go 'round and one can find no better way to come to this realization than to see dainty little Mabel Taliaferro in "The Sunbeam" at the Reliance this week.

"The Sunbeam" is a story of love, motherly love, boy and girl love and love of kin. It shows what a great amount of happiness can be caused by a sunny disposition and what lasting good comes of it.

Mabel Taliaferro is seen as "The Sunbeam," a girl of a very poor family and working in a candy factory. She is in love with a young New York gangster and her influence causes him to lead an upright life.

Other features of the bill include the latest International cartoon, Frank Daniels in a laugh-provoking comedy, "The Janitor," and another of the Athletic series, this latter showing Mollie Burdett and Mrs. Bundy, tennis champions, in action.

his regiment in Austria, Paul went back to Italy and Nina, being a nurse, joined the Red Cross. This caused the splitting up of the trio, but not of their friendship.

Completing the bill is a Keystone comedy, a Hearst News Weekly and a Christie comedy.

EVERYBODY NEEDS PURE, RICH BLOOD

Pure blood enables the stomach, liver and other digestive organs to do their work properly. Without it they are sluggish, there is loss of appetite, sometimes faintness, a deranged state of the intestines, and, in general, all the symptoms of dyspepsia.

Pure blood is required by every organ of the body for the proper performance of its functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood, and this is why it is so successful in the treatment of so many diseases and ailments. It acts directly on the blood, ridding it of scrofulous and other humors. It is a peculiar combination of blood-purifying, nerve-toning, strength-giving substances. Get to today—Advertisement.

MANY PANTAGES HITS

Musical acts lead the Pantages bill this week, with the London Singing Bell Ringers gaining enough of their audience appreciation to secure the name of headline. Five men who work smoothly produce silvery tones through the media of fifty or sixty bells. To watch these men manipulate the instruments is a revelation of cleverness and skill. Their quaint singing selections were also well received. An act that rings

Oliver Briscoe is a clever woman. Quietly, but with understanding, she delivers knock-out blows at certain modern customs and people. Miss Briscoe has a voice—if she'd only use it—and enough of the vaudeville characteristics to be called a comedienne. She is just that.

There is a comedian in "The Getting Betty" who comes for all he is worth and tells more than his share in every conceivable manner through means of peculiar dancing, talking and singing. He is naturally funny and as Farce and farceurs will lead a hand-dance movement strikes New York. Which cozy little thought prefaces a remark that "Fair and Warner," an American-made comedy, is at the Macdonough for a week. "Fair and Warner" is built upon the idea that there's a lot of fun in a room when the booze is in someone. Also, that there are as many laughs as there is lingerie in a bedroom scene. Also, again, that the marital situation is a lot more fun when the wife is a little bit of a flirt.

"Elly Bartlett, be it known, is too good to be true. He is a husband. His wife fires of his goodness and works herself up into an idea that she wants a divorce. Billy, alarmed, appeals to a friend. Friend warns the worm to turn; advises wine, women and late hours. "Do as I do" stuff.

Farce has the thing forced on him by Avery Hopwood, who wrote the farce. He is led to drink along with his advisers.

Every board's wife. Everybody comes home late one night to find Billy and the lady sleeping in a room.

It takes one whole act and a part of another to explain things away. But they are experts. It is as necessary, in farce, to explain compromising situations satisfactorily as it is to have a bedroom scene. And, Harriet, that is very necessary indeed.

Lotus Robb is Blanche Wheeler, the lady in distress. Her work as the typical "Pianist" should bring joy to the heart of the critic who has waited long for a stage drunk that isn't overdone. Henry Stockbridge is Billy to perfection. The farce is well presented.

There are those who will find it very much like a lot of other things seen upon the stage. Again, there are many who will not. Both mobs will enjoy themselves at the author's expense. There is a lot to laugh at in "Fair and Warner." And a few things to laugh with.

Those who will be seen in the play are Miss Virginia Brissac, Miss Jane O'Rourke, Miss Gertrude Le Brandt, J. Anthony Smythe, Harry Garrity, Ruth Metcalf, Rodney Hildebrandt, and little Juanita Semmons.

"Rowdy" Elliott and Brother Backstops Will Have a Tough Job Ahead of Them

"Rowdy" Elliott is confronted with the toughest prospect that ever came young major league catcher distained. The "little giant" has just heard that Charley Weegman is bringing eighteen pitchers to California next month. "Think what that means to the chap who is expected to handle the slants of those eighteen fingers."

Elliott is going into camp with the Oaks at Boyes Springs under instructions from President Weegman and Manager Mitchell of the Cubs who want "Rowdy" to be in the "pink" when the squad arrives.

"Rowdy" doesn't relish the prospect at all, but will gamely do his part in handling the new pitching staff.

California fans will watch Weegman's extraordinary array of pitching talent with keen interest, realizing that at least half of it will be left on the shelf.

coast. When the trip home is started.

Wherefore a roster of Cub plinking talent is quite in order:

Five Pacific Coasters, three of them recruits, are with the Cubs. They are William Klinger, who is a veteran, and Pete Staudigler. The first named included the reason with the Beavers, but he was not in the line-up at Spokane. Earlier in the season, the outfielder, tried out with Salt Lake in the Pacific Coast League, and Staudigler helped "Jusik" Chance in the outfield last year and this spring will make the grade with the majors. "Zack" pitched for the Beavers last season, and was and finished the season in the American Association. He has a number of low-hit games toward the end of the season, and Mitchell thinks that he too is in the "goose."

Not all of the men now on the Cubs are regulars. There were several when they came to the Coast. President Wegman and Manager Mitchell, who were with the team, and Cardinals and Clay Regd. in that case.

The other parties who once worked in the Coal Creek society are Tom Sauton, former Beaver, and "Shuffling" Phil Seagr. The latter, who married the White Sox pitcher, was killed in the war. He was finished with St. Paul last season. Phil was a right-handed pitcher, but finished up to the major league. Tom, a left-hander, pitched good ball in the minors, but was not up to the high standard. Seagr was previously set and he too will have to work hard to get back to the level of the new men from getting his job.

AMBROSE PLAYERS MISS OPPORTUNITY

The Ambrose Tailors' passed up a grand chance to step into first place in the Midwinter League when they took the day off to celebrate the victory of Modern Woodmen, while the J. J. Kreiba beat the Alameda team in a hard fought game at Lincoln park.

the punches. Tallors, however, effective chances to add to their record, rattling off six fast punches, the only ones to have then stranded there. Eight hits and several walks off Russell and three errors behind drove the Sox to victory. Tallors, doubtful. The Woodmen just managed to have a team in the field, but they were never showing up. "Red" was forced to play in his street clothes.

Powers, tallor shortstop, made the best team of the day. The Sox had a hard drive behind third and getting a score at that bag by a snap throw.

The Oaks can use both Rath and Orr handily, but they would not want both players and would fit in nicely with any minor league club in the country. Just why Bernham wants both is not known, no one knows. Perhaps they were the only two players to get the management of the club, as Rath, Orr and Dowsney are said to have been after the war.

Hunt May Accept Offer of Washington

NORTHFIELD, Minn., Jan. 8. — Coach Hunt of Carleton college tomorrow will accept the offer of the University of Washington Athletic department accepting the position of head football coach. It is expected that by tomorrow night the Carleton Athletic department will have a new head coach.

Match Shoot Planned

at Shellmound

A big shot network on a large mound is to be shot forth on Helmsen Ridge and E. Schottmum on one side and St. O. Kinsinger and the Stube on the other, opening term, on Sunday, January 21, at Shell Mound Park. Albert M. Paulson will officiate as referee and scorer. The match is creating considerable interest.

NOTES and COMMENT

France apparently does not believe that her soldiers can fight the war with water, or even coffee, as their beverage. For her sons who man the trenches at Verdun and along the Somme the best red wine she has is none too good. She is, therefore, conserving her stocks, and the state of the vintage has been one of her greatest anxieties during the war. Last year's vintage failed and the nation has now requisitioned 200,000,000 gallons of this year's wine, which, together with 40,000,000 gallons from Algeria, is being stored away in various parts of the republic for the use of the army. This enormous quantity is only one-fifth of the wine production of France, so it will be seen that the noncombatants of the nation will only suffer a slight reduction in the amount of their usual drink. In spite of what the prohibitionists have said, France is far way from being on the water wagon. —Chicago Tribune.

DEATH CALL IS HEARD BY GEO. HATTON

Noted Political Writer, Attorney and Traveler, Dies at St. Francis Hospital After Illness of But a Brief Duration

George F. Hatton, eminent lawyer, politician, writer and traveler, is dead today following an extremely short illness. The end came at St. Francis Hospital, San Francisco, due to acute uremia which necessitated a consultation of physicians on Saturday.

Although a bit under the weather for the past two weeks it was not until Saturday night that Hatton's condition became so serious that Dr. H. S. Buteau of Oakland, his family physician, ordered him removed to the hospital from the Keystone Apartments where he has resided for many years. Doctors Gailwey and MacCletgan were called into consultation and everything that medical science could do was done to save him.

Mrs. Hatton was with him throughout his stay at the hospital and remained at his bedside after he layed into unconsciousness early yesterday morning. Save for a severe attack of rheumatism in the summer this is practically Hatton's only illness in a long life of strenuous activity.

OAKLAND GIRL BRIDE.
Born in India, 50 years ago, George F. Hatton made his own way in the world. Coming to California early in his life, he took up his residence in Oakland and married an Oakland girl. He became identified with The Oakland Tribune in the early 90's and was managing editor for a long period. He was considered one of the greatest political writers the state has ever produced and was brilliant, forceful and possessed of a keen insight into all of the side lights of the game. He was associated in his early days in the newspaper profession with Edward H. Hamilton, Andrew Lawrence, Harry A. Melvin, now supreme justice, Dave Williams and the late Jack Barrett. Many

FIGHTS FOOTPADS; BADLY INJURED

Fireman, Accosted by Bandits, Receives Severe Beating by Trio.

With his head cut open and one eye beaten shut, C. C. Ring, 51, a fireman living at the Pullman House, Seventh and Pine streets, was brought into the Central Emergency hospital last night, the victim of three holdup men.

Ring, according to his story, was proceeding home early in the evening when, near Sixth and Pine streets, three men jumped out from behind a clump of trees and attacked him. Ring, instead of obeying their commands to make no resistance, put up a fight. In the melee he was struck over the head and rendered unconscious.

Later he revived and summoned the police, who took him to the hospital. He gave the officers a good description of his assailants. The men searched Ring's pockets but secured no money.

Chamber of Commerce Will Hold Meeting

The annual meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Wednesday at noon in the main dining room of the Hotel Oakland. Following luncheon, the president's report will be read to the members in session, and 1916's progress review will be made.

This meeting is considered one of the most important ones of the year, and a full attendance is regarded as almost certain.

have considered him the most celebrated political writer of his time and his political column in The Oakland Tribune from 1894 to 1898 was perhaps more widely read than any of his contemporaries. He had been on a paper in Los Angeles prior to his coming to Oakland where he immediately forged ahead so as to attract the attention of George C. Perkins, whose campaign manager he was on each of his successive candidacies as United States senator.

He materially aided in the election of James N. Gillett as governor. Hatton was extremely loyal to his friends and his word was always taken without question. No man was more familiar with the inside political history of the state during the past ten years.

ADMITTED TO BAR.
In 1895 by personal effort, and study Hatton was admitted to the bar and became Perkins' personal attorney and advisor. In 1898 Hatton removed to San Francisco and was appointed a notary public by Governor Gage. He thereupon entered the active practice of the law shortly after becoming counsel for the Etna Indemnity Company and afterwards becoming identified with large interests in San Francisco.

Shortly before the first business partnership was formed with Bartley Peart which has remained in existence ever since. During the last decade Hatton has made several trips around the world. He was very fond of traveling and made a study of all the places visited, reading about them and investigating them all ways with an idea of improving his knowledge of world events.

Hatton will be sorely missed by a large circle of friends and associates whom he had attracted to himself during a busy life. The arrangements for the funeral will be announced late this afternoon.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Sacred Heart church, Fillmore street, near Hayes. Interment will be private.

BILLY SUNDAY IS TOPIC OF SERMON

Rev. A. W. Palmer Points to Lessons in the Work of Evangelist.

Selecting as his sermon subject the theme, "Billy Sunday and Modern Thought—Could they learn anything from one another?" Rev. Albert W. Palmer commended the athletic revivalist Sunday evening before his congregation, at the same time criticizing him severely for certain characteristic methods and modes of thought.

Following a short comparison of Sunday with John the Baptist, Biblical revivalist, Dr. Palmer said that neither one understood to the fullest extent the spiritual message of Jesus.

"I have a feeling that Billy Sunday and Modern Thought need each other," continued Palmer. "I feel that they could learn much from one another to their mutual profit."

"Among the benefits which Billy Sunday might secure from modern religious thought would be a smaller and more hopeful hell! Men and women cannot in this age be hypnotized, even by Billy Sunday, into really believing that God's mercy ceases at the moment of death for those who have not been fortunate enough to secure admittance to Billy Sunday's tabernacle on a crowded night. A man of Billy Sunday's splendid vitality and enthusiasm deserves a bigger and kinder God!"

"Along with a smaller and more hopeful hell, Billy Sunday would probably attain a greater restraint in assigning people thereto! If he only realized that hell was relatively small, he would in all decency try not to overcrowd it!"

"The other great thing which Modern Thought holds in store for Billy Sunday, is a bigger conception of the social gospel. Billy Sunday is socially awake at just one point—the liquor traffic. But the social problem is a lot bigger than the liquor traffic, and Billy Sunday's sneers at social service, and the brotherhood of man are enough to make the angels weep."

During the morning service Dr. Palmer spoke on what the nation, state and city needed most during 1917. He hoped for a better form of city government, according to the sermon, expressing the desire for a city "managership" and tributary offices. Another of his expressed wishes for 1917 was the wider use of the auditorium for public purposes.

MISSING BOY SOUGHT.
Carlos Richmond, a 12-year-old boy living with Mrs. Mary E. White at 553 Cedar street, Alameda, is being sought by the police following a report that he has been missing from his home since last Monday. It was reported that Carlos had been "playing hooky" from school and that he feared to face his principal after the "voluntary" vacation.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES ESCAPE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Four small boys who Saturday raided Barclay Brothers' garage, 4907 Mission street, stealing $200 worth of accessories, made a second attempt to break into the premises this morning. They were chased by a special officer, but succeeded in again escaping.

TO INVESTIGATE FIRE.
In the belief that fire in a shed on property at 827 Kirkham street early yesterday was caused by a fire-bug, Inspector William Kyle is investigating. The blaze was discovered by John Roderick, a neighbor.

Committee Hears of Strike Referendum

Consideration was made today by the laws and legislative committee, chamber of commerce, of referendums relating to the threatened national railroad strike. These referendums were sent the local body by the United States chamber of commerce. Discussion of the suggested means to avert the strike formed a large part of the program.

F. P. Jaggard, chemist of the Schmidt Lithographing Co., San Francisco, addressed the graphic arts section, local chamber, on how to test paper.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in many other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know how to remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches and have been unable to remove the cause, take anti-kamnia tablets, and obtain the greatest possible relief. You can obtain them at all drug stores in any quantity, 10c worth, 50c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK HEADACHES

Sick headache, the most miserable of all illnesses, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on take two tablets, and in many cases, the attack will be warded off. During an attack take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

You have swollen feet and hands! Stiff, aching joints! Sharp-shooting, rheumatic pains torture you. You have aching back, pain in the lower abdomen, difficulty when urinating! Look out! These are danger signals. Trouble is with your kidneys. Urine acid poisoning, in one form or another, has set in. It may lead to dropsy or fatal Bright's disease if not checked. Get some GOLD MEDAL Hamlet Oil Capsules immediately. They are the pure, original Hamlet Oil in Capsules. Be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box, and thus protect yourself against counterfeits.
